KITCHEN DOOR CARE & MAINTENANCE

PRE-INSTALLATION RECOMMENDATIONS

Ensure that all new-builds or newly plastered rooms have been left to environmentally stabilise prior to the installation of new kitchen doors.

Kitchen doors must not be installed into a damp, or moisture-rich environment as it will cause undesirable movement in the joints and panels of the door.

CLEANING & MAINTENANCE

General cleaning advice for all door types including timber, painted, PVC & gloss:

- do not use wax-furniture polish, abrasive or aggressive cleaners, bleach or other hypochlorate (chlorine) based cleaners, multipurpose cleaners, dilutes, acetone, alcohol, solvent or similar products on the door, as this will damage the surface;
- only use a 5% soap, 95% water (liquid soap) solution, wiping with a damp (not wet) cloth, finally drying with a soft clean cloth only.
- ensure all cooking splashes are wiped immediately with a damp cloth; and
- dust with a soft cloth only.

TIMBER & VENEERED DOORS

Timber, by nature, is susceptible to expansion and shrinkage depending on the environment in which it is installed. This means it could expand when there is an abundance of moisture in the air, particularly in winter or when excess moisture is prevalent in renovated or new builds. Contraction may occur in the summer months when the climate is drier. This potential natural movement of the timber can cause any layer of paint, lacquer, varnish etc that has been applied, to move with it and may result in panel shrinkage and hairline cracks along the joints of the door. This is considered to be a positive feature, adding an authentic look and feel to the kitchen.

If you would prefer not to live with the natural characteristics of timber, a PVC door would be the ideal choice. Unlike timber, it remains static and is available in a range of colours and styles.

Overveneered products help reduce, but do not eliminate, the occurrence of hairline cracks in the joints.

cleaning: when cleaning timber doors you must follow the pattern of the grain. It is advisable to use a damp (not wet) cloth to remove fingerprints and marks, followed at once with a clean and dry soft cloth.

moisture: excess moisture can damage a timber product - it is recommended that susceptible areas such as around the sink are thoroughly maintained and kept dry at all times.

light: timber changes colour when exposed to light. The species of timber and intensity of exposure will affect the rate of change.

It is advised that colour change is taken into consideration when replacing or fitting new doors some time after the original kitchen has been installed.

PVC & HIGH GLOSS DOORS

If the doors are supplied with a protective film on the face they must not be directly exposed to sunlight. Once installation is complete, carefully remove the protective film from the front of the fascia.

This PVC/lacquer coated product has been manufactured from the highest quality materials. Please be careful not to puncture the PVC or lacquered surface of your panels. These should be kept dry in order to prevent moisture ingress.

If the surface of the product is exposed to any oil based substance (for example olive oil, butter, margarine or cooking oil), the spillage must be wiped away immediately to prevent staining. Grease marks caused by these oil-based products can easily be removed by use of a mild detergent, non-abrasive cleaner if used immediately after spillage has happened.

Abrasive cleaners are not recommended for this type of product. Do not expose the doors or panels to temperature in excess of 60°C (140°F) [Approximately the temperature of washing up water].

PAINTED DOORS

cleaning: it is advisable to use a damp (not wet) cloth to remove fingerprints and marks, followed at once with a clean and dry soft cloth.

light: painted finishes will change colour when exposed to light - the intensity of exposure will affect the rate of change.

We also advise that colour change is taken into consideration when replacing or fitting new doors some time after the original kitchen has been installed.

STAINED DOORS

cleaning: it is advisable to use a damp (not wet) cloth to remove fingerprints and marks, followed at once with a clean and dry soft cloth.

light: stained finishes will change colour when exposed to light - the intensity of exposure will affect the rate of change.

We also advise that colour change is taken into consideration when replacing or fitting new doors some time after the original kitchen has been installed.

Kitchen Stori's range of stains are protected by an application of lacquer.

SANDED (RAW) DOORS

cleaning: sanded products are unfinished and therefore the care of these doors will depend on the type of finish applied, eg paint, stain, wax etc., see above for care guidance.
